Braggalan, a story of intense interest, will be published in Sunday's DISPATCH.

FORTY-FOURTH YEAR.

DRIVEN FROM HOME.

A Wealthy Widow Forced to Take Refuge With the Family of a Friend

TO RETAIN HER LIBERTY.

Her Own Son and Half-Sister Trying

TO PUT HER IN AN INSANE ASYLUM.

Their Best

They Claim That She Shows Evidence of Being Wenk-Minded - Squanders Her Money Right and Left on Strangers and Won't Give Any to Her Relations-She Runs Away From a Luxuriously Appointed Home, Leaving it to the Servnate-Her Story a Romantic One-Pearful of Being Incarcerated in an Asylum at the Instance of a Woman Who Was Herself at One Time a Lunatic-Money at the Bottom of All the Treuble.

An interesting and complicated case is to come up in a Philadelphia court to-day. The widow of a late eminent resident of that city is the subject of a romance as well as the victim of considerable trouble. She is at present stopping with a friend, and her balfasister and son ask for a writ of habeas | though the ordeal is a hard one." corpus for her surrender, claiming that she is being detained against her will. The de-fense is that she went to her friends to avoid being placed in an insane asylum by these being placed in an insane asylum by these same relatives.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR.] PHILADELPHIA, November 7 .- To-more row morning, in the Court of Quarter Sessions, a case will come up of remarkable and intense interest, in which the name and heirs of the late Caleb Cope, one of Philadelphia's most eminent citizens, will figure. It will be in the shape of a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus, issued to-day upon Henry Deringer, for the surrender and appearance in court of Mrs. Josephine Porter son, said: "My mother is the same

The writ was granted upon the allegation of Mrs. George E. Coolidge, Mrs. Cope's sister, and of Porter F. Cope, her younger son, setting forth that she had been decoyed from her home by Mr. Deringer, and was detained by him at his house, against her friends."

CLAIMED TO BE CRAZY.

Although the hearing to-morrow will be only to determine whether Mrs. Cope left scendant of the Deringer of pistol fame. tention, it is possible other matters will grow out of it, and some of Mrs. Cope's rela- family, lived in the house, which tives do not dany that it is their intention to is have her placed under restraint as a person of unsound mind.

The whole proceeding, and the sudden departure of Mrs. Cope from her elegant home, one of the finest in the city, late on | that preparations were being made by Por-Monday night last, grew out of Mrs. Cope's ter Cope and Mrs. Coolidge to have a certificate of Mrs. Cope's insanity signed, belief in the existence of a conspiracy between her younger son and her sister, and possibly others, to get possession of her property. She so alleges, and so does her eldest son, Caleb F. Cope, who stands by and Dr. Henry were there for the purpose. his mother and is with her at the house of the Deringer family, where she claims she fied for protection.

MONEY AT THE BOTTOM

financial matters between Mrs. Cope and her | received some message from her half-sister, cister, or rather her half-sister, Mrs. Coolidge -for they had different fathers-but not in relation to the Cope estate. When Mrs. Cope's mother, a high-born Southern lady was served, said as he held it in his hand, of Tennessee, died and left her the estate acquired from Mrs. Cope's own father, she requested that Mrs. Coolidge be given a home, if it could possibly be arranged. It was expected that the estate of Mrs.

Cope's father would be settled in a month. and the misunderstandings between the sisters came from questions involved, Mrs. Coolidge alleging particularly that Mrs. Cope was squandering her money by giving it in a weak-minded way to anyone who excited her sympathies. The trouble between mother and son was of a similar character. He claimed that he did not receive as much money as he should, and that it was being trittered away.

A QUIET LITTLE PARTY.

On Monday night several of the many friends who were in the habit of coming to Mrs. Cope's house were assembled there, among them Captain Dewey, an old Quaker sea captain and lifelong friend of Caleb Cope; Rev. Mr. McNamara, and Mrs. Mc-Namars, of Millvale, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. most whatever they asked for. These peo-Henry Deringer. Mrs. Coolidge was ple, the Deringers and others, have simply also there, as was Mrs. Coolidge's gained an influence over her, and spirited son by a former husband, Henry Cochrane, who has been living in the house for some time past, though Mrs. Coolidge lives with of them were there by design, there being two forces at work, those favorable to Mrs. Cope and anxious to protect her, Mrs. Cope and anxious to protect her, and those opposed to her. Dr. Frederick P. staff, who met him in the midst of the fray came in, and in the course of conversation others, Caleb Cope asked Mrs. Cope a number of questions, among them, "Do you remember when Mr. Cope died?" and Mrs. Cope's reply was "That is for anyone to ask about a man so well known as Mr. Cope." She also remarked that Dr. Henry was looking at her in a puzzling manner. Mr. Deringer remarked: and met Miss Porter in an insane asylum, "Surely, doctor, you don't think Mrs. Cope is insane?"

This appears to have broken up the conversation. A short time afterward Mrs. Cope went out of the room with Mrs. Deringer, Dr. Henry having meantime taken his departure. No one paid much attention to the incident, and Mr. Deringer remained with the others for nearly an hour talking. It was about 11 o'clock when Mrs. Cope. wearing a dark gown and headdress which, with her classical and pale face, partly gray hair, combed straight, gave her a Marie Ansoinette-like appearance, left the room. When search came to be made for her it was discovered that she was not in the house.

and soon the many servants and others were in a state of excitement. It took but a little while to discover that she had FLED FROM HEE HOME, leaving it with all its magnificence and splendor, practically to strangers. It seems that she was no sooner out of the room than she appealed to Mrs. Deringer to protect her and take her away with her, and this Mrs. Deringer did, the two ladies walking the ten squares to Mrs. Deringer's house. protected, however, by a faithful coachman who is ready to fight for his mistress' in-

When all this occurred, Porter F. Cope, the younger son, was at home. It was the first time he had seen his mother since they had quarreled about money matters and he had left the house and taken a room at Green's Hotel.

Mrs. Cope received a DISPATCH reporter this evening, at the Deringer residence on Spruce street, and said: "I am a little nervous and shocked by what has taken place, and it is not a pleasant position when a woman has to fice from her son, and one who, in reality as in name, should be her eister. My son Porter is really the

SOURCE OF ALL THIS TROUBLE.

"He has been extravagant, and has no idea of the value of money. He started a weekly paper or book called Society, and I gave him $300 outside of allowances, and soon he said it would have to be $400, and he kept wanting more until I finally had to stop it, and then he quarreled. This hobby of his has turned his head, and his desire for money has set him against his mother. I am not detained here. It was my wish to come. I asked Mrs. Deringer to take me with her and protect me from insult, and she did so. They have been arranging for some time to get me into an insane asylum, asserting that I am crazy, but of the justice of that I leave you or anyone else to judge. Fortunately, my son Caleb and many of my old friends stand by me, and I feel safe now,

The appearance and manner of Mrs. Cope different opinions, but she certainly showed

NO SIGN OF ANY DERANGEMENT to-night. She has long been in poor health, and excitement and emotion have more effect upon her than on a stronger person, but the only impression made by her upon a stranger is that of a refined and highlystrung nervous woman, with a very delicat

Dr. Henry, in the course of conversation to-night, declared that he could not call Mrs. Cope insane. Neither could he say she was not insane. Her sanity has been Cope, the late president of the Philadelphia she has suffered grief enough to set sayings fund. long ago, and now my brother has turned against her, out of the most sordid and selfish motives. I wish it to be distinctly understood as coming from me, that my mother is as sound in mind as you or I, and did perfectly right in coming here to the protection of Mr. and Mrs. Deringer, her

CALLED A CONSPIRACY. Colorel Calhoun Deringer, the father of Henry Deringer and the head of the family to whose shelter Mrs. Cope has fled, is a despiracy in this. Edward Fink, a son of Dr. Fink, of the well-known Quaker large a very one, before and Cope's death. He acted as a sort of tector of Mrs. Cope, and peacemaker in the many quarrels gotton up by her son Porter since his father's death. Fink, over a week ago received an anonymous letter saying and to hurry her off to an asylum. He told us, and as we understand it, she was to have been taken in a closed carriage on Monday night, when she fled the house, and her son The acquaintance of my son and his wife with Mrs. Cope was entirely accidental. My son's wife and Mrs. Coolidge were both at Atlantic City DUBING THE DREADFUL STORM. There are questions pending concerning and my son, hearing that Mrs. Cope had went down there to inquire, and at her request he took Mrs. Deringer to call on Mrs.

Cope when she returned.' Henry Deringer, upon whom the writ seated with Mrs. Cope and all the party in his house to-night: "This is a blunder. Mrs. Cope is under no restraint. She comes here of her own free will, and not with me, but as the guest of my wife. I of course assured her she would be safe under this roof. Aristides Welsh and other men of that character-old friends of Mr. Cope-will stand by her in this matter. So will Mr. Outerbridge, of the trust company that has charge of her own estate. The Cope propis, I believe, in the hands of Mr. Shiply, of the Provident Trust."

Mrs. Coolidge, who is also a very strik-Mrs. Coolidge, who is also a very sing looking woman, was seen at the Cope mansion, of which she is in charge. "My sister has long been crazy," she said. "She takes up with all sorts of people, brings queer people into her house, and lets them stay there, and has been GIVING HER MONEY AWAY right and left, so that if she keeps on she will soon have none left. Mr. Cope about $300,000, I believe, and she had about $50,000 from my mother. She has refused to give her son money, but any stranger who could work on her sympathies could get alher off."

The life of Mrs. Cope has been full of romance, as well as severe trials and griefs. Her father was killed in the Confederate her present husband at 2208 North Broad cause, while Colonel of his regiment. She street. There is no doubt at all that most was a beautiful girl, and one of the great belles of Nashville, when she gaged to be married to General Zollickoffer who, in the battle of Mills Springs, was Henry, who has known Mrs. Cope for many and called on him to surrender. As in the years, though he has never attended her, case of Millet, Sir Edward Arnold and

> MET HIS FATE in an art gallery. It was while watching her sitting over her easel at the Academy of Fine Arts, of which he was a director, that years of age and she 22. They had met be-fore this, however, but only casually. It is a singularly dramatic coincidence in this strange story that Mr. Cope first saw death—Henry Miller, John Martin, Chas. of which he was a manager, and the purpose of her visit there was to see Mrs. Coolidge, her half-sister, who was then temporarily an inmate of the Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane. Now Mrs. Coolidge claims that it is Mrs. Cope who is insane, and desires to above the snow. put her where she was herself. Mrs. Coolidge has been three times married

Love Laughs at Parents' Wishes. (SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH, BROWNSVILLE, November 7 .- Harry

Cox, of McKeesport, formerly of Browns ville, and Miss Gertie Baird, daughter of in the outskirts of Savannah, early this E. H. Baird, a prominent G. A. R. man of this place, eloped to-day and it is supposed they went to Ohio. The wedding had been opposed by the parents of the bride, hence the cause of the clopement of the bride, hence the clopement of the bride, hence the clopement of the clopement of the bride, hence the clopement of the clopement E. H. Baird, a prominent G. A. R. man of

HAD TO GO AROUND.

Sequel to an Incident of the Cleveland Harrison Campaign-One of Quny's $2,000 Rewards for the Detection of False Registration Gets People in Trouble.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 NEW YORK, November 7 .- Detective Cornelius Leary, of the Madison street station, was on trial before the police commissioners to-day on a charge of accepting $400 from John Broderick, an undertaker. Broderick is the election inspector who got Matt Quay's $2,000 reward for detecting a case of illegal registration in October, 1888. Leary made the arrest. Broderick testified that after he got the $2,000 Leary said it ought to have been paid to him. He agreed to give Leary $400. Soon afterward Leary called on him again and said to him: "What good is $400? I've got to divy with my Captain (Captain Garland), and make good at headquarters."

"He shook his umbrella at me," said Broderick, "and said: 'I'm going to get the full amount, and don't you forget it."" Broderick's lawyer, John J. Collins, said that he offered Leary a check for $400, but Leary answered: "Johnny, you can't put me in a false position." Collins therefore paid in cash. Then Leary said that he must have $200 more for the Captain, and that subsequently Leary demanded the full amount, remarking that there would be little left for him "after it went through beadquarters." Leary said in his defense that he never received anything from Broderick or Collins, He made the arrest and secured the convic-tion of the person who illegally registered, and he considered that he was entitled to the reward. He went to President French, of the police board, and received a note of introduction to the Republican committee having charge of the reward. Mr. French told him if he got the reward to bring it to headquarters, to be submitted to the board, to decide whether or not he would be al lowed to accept it. Leary said that when he found that Broderick had beaten him out of the reward he asked Broderick how he got the money. Broderick said "Well, I got it." He went to Collins, who told him that he had got his percentage out of it, and that was all be had to say. The full board will decide the TROUBLE AHEAD.

Montana Courts Decide in Favor of the Democratic Legislators-Two Sets of Certificates Issued-The Senntors Are at Stake. HELENA, MONT., November 7 .- The Silver Bow mandamus case was finished today, Judge DeWolfe denying the right of the minority of the Board of Canvassers to appeal from the order of the court directing the canvassers to count the vote of the Tunnel precinct. The Court issued a mandatory order, and Hall and Irvin counted the vote of the disputed precinct for McHatton, Democrat.

This decision also covers the Legislativecon test, for by it the Democrats secure 10 of the 11 members of the Silver Bow delegation. The contest is now as to the certificates of members of the Legislature. After the State Canvassing Board adjourned the Secretary of State issued certificates of election to the members of the Legislature, including the six Republicans of the Silver Bow delegations.

The clerks of already issued certificates, and the Democrats-elect refused the Secretary's certificates.

DISASTER TO THE COAL FLEET.

Fog at Marletta the Cause of a Very Henvy Loss. PERCHAL TRINGHAM TO THE DISPATOR &

MARIETTA, November 7,-There was reat loss and confusion at this place early this morning among the coal fleets passing down. As the first boat, the Harry Brown. came in, a fog settled down and she was thrown over by the new current, and lost four barges, disabling others. The mate, William Fitzthe she simmons, of Louisville, was seriously injured by a parting cable, one arm broken, leg broken and other injuries. George Woods followed, barges. The Joseph losing three Nixon got through and released two boats that got foul on wing dam. The Jim Brown lost 3 out of 12. The Voyager had 10 barges and a fuel flat, losing only the latter. The Joseph W. Gould got through with 12 barges.

In all these boats lost 12 barges, worth about $15,000, and coal worth $40,000 more. Word was sent to other boats above, and eight or ten are unwilling to take the chances, though the weather is clear. those in the wrecks only the Gould has been able to pursue her journey. At one time the wildest excitement prevailed, as it seemed likely that five or six boats and their tows would be piled in together.

DYNAMITERS IN JAPAN.

Searly Successful Attempt to Kill a Minister With a Bomb.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 7 .- The steamer City of Sydney, from Japan, to-day brings the news of an attempted assassingtion on October 18, of Count Okuma, the Minister of Foreign Affairs for Japan. The Count was returning from a Cabinet meeting and just entering the gate of his official residence, when a man named Kurushima Tsuneki, 30 years of age, and who was po-litically envious of the Count, stepped in front of the carriage and threw a bomb at the Count.

The bomb struck the top of the carriage, and exploded at the Count's feet, inflicting deep wounds on the right leg and slight wounds on the right hand and face. The would-be assassin then drew a short sword and killed himself on the spot by cutting his throat. The Count's leg was amputated above the knee, but the surgeons state that no fear need be entertained for his life.

PEOPLE FROZEN TO DEATH.

Reports of a Blizzard Disastrous to Man and Boust. New Mexico, November 7 .- Unless the snow storm, which has been raging for eight days, comes to an end soon, next summer will show a country covered with the dead bodies of covered animals as thickly as was the old Santa Fe he formed the desire of marrying Miss Por-ter and proposed to her. He was then 70 now not less than 20 inches on a level, and in many places it has drifted seven feet high. Five cowmen are known to be frozen to Jolly and two unknown. Two Mexican sheep herders have been found frozen to death. Two men coming in this morning report the drifts in some places 7 and 8 feet high, in which there are hundreds of dead stock, many with only the head and horns

A SOUTHERN OTHERLEO.

Jenlousy Was the Cause of Another Horrid

Murder lu Georgia. SAVANNAH, GA., November 7 .- Albert Marea cut his wife's throat from ear to ear, clined.

PITTSBURG. FRIDAY, NOVEMBER

HARRISON IS BLAMED
in the campaign, so that there would not be any factions in the party. Now that there has been a Democratic Legislature elected, the Democrat said this programme would be carried out, unless both of the men declined. for the Governor's Defeat.

JEALOUS RIVALS ALSO ARRAIGNED

For Their Lukewarmness or Open or Secret Knifing of the Leader. ALL OF THEM WILL BE REMEMBERED.

> Senator Sherman the Only One Who is Not Place Under the Ban.

While Governor Foraker is rather reticent as to the causes of his defeat, his friends don't hesitate to blame the administration and several prominent Ohio Republicans for the disaster. The Governor, however, is also reported as quietly getting ready to repay the obligations under which some of his jealous party rivals have placed him.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. COLUMBUS, November 7 .- Governor Foraker calmly, politely and firmly refuses to indulge in personalities or to blame anyone for his defeat. "It would hardly be becoming in me," he said, "to blame any persons for the result. I am defeated, and have congratulated Mr. Campbell. I am disappointed, because I had hoped for and expected a different outcome; and now I am going to Cincinnati to practice law. I will not complain of anyone's conduct, and beg to be excused from saving anything more about it."

Although Governor Foraker refused to go into personalities, he was willing to assign general and local causes for his defeat, and of them said the following to-day: "It appears from the returns that I am defeated, and that the balance of the State ticket is undoubtedly elected. Of course, under the circumstances, with the combination against me of the liquor dealers, saloon keeepers and other violators of the law, added to the opposition of the Republicans who took sides against me on personal grounds and on account of the third-termism, A DIFFERENT RESULT

could not have been expected. In addition to what I have mentioned, we had a right to expect Republican gains and support in districts where there heavy Republican losses. While I feel my defeat, I assure you that I am not cast down, but of course you that I am not cast down, but of course you that I am not cast down, but of course fident that the Republicans who have seen fit to place the Democratic party in power and vindicate the election of Henry B.

The when he came out his face was wreathen with smiles, and he chuckled merrily when he said "Good-by." It is understood that the President made a good-natured reference to the recent elections, which Mr. Cleveland answered in the same spirit. ministration, have ample time and occasion to appreciate their mistake."

But if Governor Foraker will not enter into the accusations and recriminations common to Ohio Republicans at this time, there are many of his friends who are less judicious and more vicious. They openly declare that no man in Ohio politics has ever suffered as much from treachery as Foraker. They roundly curse General Grosvenor, General Kennedy, Major But-to Senator Sherman, at this time, than to any other prominent Republican in Ohio. They report that he was the only one who redeemed his pledge of support. Butterworth and McKinley are blamed on general principles, not for any specific words or acts.

There is no question about the attitude of Foraker Republicans toward the administration at Washington. No pretense of concealment is made in regard to the disgust they entertain for the policy of the One of Governor Foraker's friends said to-day; "It is a notorious fact that Foraker could not even secure the appointment of a fourth-class postmaste They wouldn't give him any support whatever, and as a consequence Harrison can be blamed for some of this. Of coure, Sherman should have aided us in securing patronage, but that does not relieve the administration. If they had given Foraker half a chance, the anti-third term Republicans would not have bee so rabid."

ALL CRITICISE HARRISON. This gentleman seems to express the feelings of nearly all the others, because all talk alike, and unite in criticising the administration and Republican leaders. No one hesitates to say just what he pleases concerning the man who contributed to the Republican disaster. Foraker's triends declare in public that they will "get even" with the bolters and their leaders, and all predict complete demoralization of the party until the feud is ended. To illustrate this feeling, there can be quoted an expression attributed to Governor Foraker by an Ohio Democratic paper. The remark is said to have been made to Stephen A. Douglas, Jr. He is reported to have said: "It is a dangerous thing for party men to knife the ticket of their own party, but since some eminent Republicans have seen fit to in-

THAT DANGEROUS CUSTOM, perhaps I, too, may be able to follow in their footsteps in the future, without being considered a traitor to my party," On the other hand, Foraker's enemies accuse him of dragging down the whole ticket, and they are equally unsparing in their criticisms. The latest returns available show that the Republican State ticket, with the exception of Lieutenant Governor, is probably elected by small pluralities Foraker's running mate, Lampson, possibly crawl in by a few votes. The General Assembly is undoubtedly Democratic by a majority of ten on joint ballot. Governor Foraker looked thin and pale, as a result of his recent illness and the strain of the election.

The following was given out from Repub lican headquarters at 10 o'clock to-night: lican headquarters at 10 o'clock to-night:

We now have returns from the entire State, showing the election of Judge Dickman, Attorney General Watson, State Commissioner Brown, member of the Board of Public Works Hahn, School Commissioner John Hancock, and Clerk of the Supreme Court Hester, by pluralities ranging from 2,500 to 5,000. We believe Lampson is elected Lieutenant Governor, but the race between him and Mr. Marquis was close, and Mr. Lampson's plurality will be small. It will require the official vote to obtain the exact plurality of the Republican candidates.

THE SENATORIAL OUTLOOK. John H. Thomas, of Springfield, who made a canvass for Senator to succeed Payne, has been in the city for two days, to watch the movements. He is looked upon as a novice in politics. He is being guyed quietly by those who are in the management, and it is believed he will stand no show when the proper time comes to fill the position by the new Democratic Legislature. Thomas' presence in the city, however, has stimulated gossip, and the names and claims of other candidates are being canvassed.

A prominent Democrat who is connected with the workings of the party in Ohio the workings of the party in Ohio stated to-day that Colonel Calvin S. Brice would be given the Senatorship if he would consent to accept it, and if he declines, it will go to John K. McLean. He said this was the understanding before the campaign opened, though it was equally well understood that neither should make any showing 1889.

YOUNG ENOUGH TO WAIT. There has been quite a boom started for James E. Neal, Chairman of the Democratic Committee, and he is receiving many compliments, but he is young in the party work, and it is insisted he can afford to wait. M. D. Harter has written a long latter in which he sate forth the research letter in which he sets forth the reasons why his friend Mr. Thomas should be given the place. The letter will be published to-morrow. In fact, the work has

The news comes from Washington to-night that John R. McLean would not accept the Senatorship if it were tendered him, but the source of information is not reliable. Lawrence T. Neal, of Chillicothe, who came within a vote and a fraction of being ominated over Campbell, has been doing good work in the campaign, and is in the line of promotion, but he is quoted as hav-ing stated to-day that he would not be a candidate, as he is not worth enough money to enter the contest and then live as he would like to do in Washington in case he

Among the other candidates whose names are being canvassed in connection with the place are Virgil Q. Kline, of Cleveland; Hon. Warren P. Noble, Congressman Outhwaite, Thomas E. Powell, who was defeated for Governor in 1887; Hon. H. J. Booth, of Columbus; John W. Bookwalter, of Springfield, who was one time defeated for Gov ernor, and ex-Congressman Converse, of this PAST MEETS PRESENT.

Ex-President Cleveland Calls on President Harrison at the White House-A Pleasant Visit-The Recent Elections Referred to, and Grover Smiles.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, November 7 .- Past and resent met at the White House, to-day, shook hands and enjoyed a social three-quarters of an hour with each other in the Green parlor. Ex-President Grover Cleveland impersonated the past, while President Harrison represented the present, just as smilingly as though he and the rest of the Republican party had not been more or less upset by the results of Tuesday's political strife.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland drove to the Executive Mansion together, but only the ex-President alighted, his wife satisfying herself by sending a card in for her successor as mistress of the two-story-and-basement na-tional palace, and who is now in New York. Then they drove away, and at about 2:15 o'clock the empty carriage returned to take away the ex-President. He must have had a very pleasant time with his successor, for President Harrison accompanied Mr. Cleveland only to the jeweled glass screen which shuts the public out of the main corridor, and then left him standing in the vestibule, chatting for a couple of minutes with Doorkeeper Loeffler. Others of the old employes were cordially greeted, and with the remark, "It's a fine day," to Captain Dinsmore, the ex-President walked briskly out to the waiting vehicle. Only a few of the mourners were at the terworth, and some extend the condemna-tion to Major McKinley. Upon the first two named the burden of their criticism has fallen because both are

KNOWN TO HAVE KNIFED FORAKEB

Off the stump and upon every occasion off the stump and upon every occasion Postmaster James M. Warner, of Albany, where their words would not reach the and Major T. J. Nobie of Richmond, Va., public. were also among the callers.

A COSTLY EXPERIMENT.

The Boston Heating Company Tires Throwing Good Money After Bad-Dear Experince Bought and Paid for by the Stockholders.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. Boston, November 7 .- After laying three miles of pipe at an expense of more than $2,000,000, the Boston Heating Company finds that the whole work will have to be done over again, and has shut down for the present, much to the disgust of the patrons who depend upon the concern for heat. The return pipe through which the water is confucted back to the station has rusted away, although it has been in the ground less than two years. Engineers are unable to account for the rapid decay.

The stockholders will suffer a heavy loss. The principal stockholder is its President, Mr. Theodore N. Vail, who holds no less than 2,880 shares, and is reported on the street to have advanced upward of $1,000,-Mr. Vail made a vast fortune in the Bell telephone, and is now President of the Metropolitan Telephone Company. friends in telephone interests are said to satisfaction to all parties concerned. The have made some financial advances, and firemen had taken sides with the strikers, Messrs, Drexel, Morgan & Co. are said to have aided the heating company to the amount of $300,000 or $350,000, and this firm has the first claim upon the plant should the company decide not to continue operations.

The Habilities are said to be $1,404,538. The assets are estimated at $1,358,273. Several of the gentlemen interested state that they have the fullest confidence in the future of the company. They believe that when the imperfections in the plant are under stood, and the work of construction com pleted, the stock will pay handsome dividends.

AGAINST THE LEGISLATURE.

By a Close Vote the Indiana Supreme Court

Sustains Hovey. INDIANAPOLIS, November 7. - The Supreme Court to-day made a decision that will create a sensation all over Indiana. The cases decided are those brought on the | who cut the rates were driven out of busirelation of the State for the purpose of having the provisions of the Constitution relating to the filling of minor State offices interpreted. Two cases are one in which John Worrell (Republican) as Governor Hovey's appointee, sought possession of the office of Chief of the Bureau of Statistics, now held by William A. Peelle (Democrat), who was appointed by the Legislature; and the one in which 8. T. Yancey (Republican) sought posses-sion of the office of State Oil Inspector, now held by Nelson A. Hyde (Democrat). The decision also determined the suits of Prof. John Collett (Republican). Governor Hovey's appointee, as Chief of the Bureau of Geology and Natural Science, against S. 6. Gorby (Democrat), who now office by virtue of appointment by the Leg-

The effect of the decision will be to practically revolutionize the present method of filling the minor State offices. Chief Justice Elliott (Republicans) and Judge Mitchell (Democrat) dissent from the decision of Justices Olds, Berkshire and Cof-fey (Republicans). The majority of the Court holds that Court holds that the election b the Legislature was illegal; also that the Governor has no inherent right to appoint because the offices should be filled by ar election by the people. But as the office exist legally they are now vacant, and must be filled by the Governor's appointment,

A New Prohibition Idea. TOPEKA, KAN., November 7 .- A call signed by the different temperance societies A CRUMB OF COMFORT

For Senator Allison, Even if He Should Lose His Present Seat.

BETTER SHOW FOR PRESIDENT

Looms Up Before Him, as the Result of Tuesday's Election in Iowa.

HARRISON COUNTED OUT OF THE RACE, Other for Any Use.

Senator Allison is regarded by his friends as a strong Presidental possibility in 1892, His chances for the Republican nomination are regarded as greatly improved by the result of the election in Iowa. With Iowa a doubtful State, Harrison out of the race, and all the Ohio candidates out of the way, Allison is considered very well at the front. | where

IFROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.1 WASHINGTON, November 7 .- Less regret is expressed here on account of the loss f the Ohio Governorship and of the possibility of the transfer of Iowa to the Democratic column than on account of the prospect of the loss of Senator Allison to the Senate, as, if the Legislature elected Tuesday prove to be Democratic on joint ballot, it will elect a Democratic successor to Allison. Beside being one of the ablest and most industrious members of the Senate, Allison is so genial in a social way, pleasing to look upon, and surrounds himself with so fine an atmosphere of good fellowship that his absence would be more noticed by his fellow

Senators than that of almost any other member of the body. HIS GREAT TARIFF WORK. As the Chairman of the sub-Committee of the last Committee on Finance, which had charge of the construction of what is known as the Senate tariff bill, Mr. Allion performed an immense amount of labor, and to him and Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, is due the credit of nearly the entire work of drafting what is said by protectionists to be the most perfect revenue bill ever formed. In the discussion that followed the introduction of the bill, Senator Allison was the one Republican member who never stumbled in his analysis of it. He had a good argument for every section, paragraph and item, and in his always leasant and temperate way met success

Hully every criticism.

Egret for the Senstor's possible retirement is somewhat modified, however, by he argument that Democratic success in Iowa and the election of a Democratic successor to Allison will make the Senator one of the most formidable candidates of the Republican nomination for the Presidency in 1892. The strong and fatal argument against his nomination last year at Chicago was the fact that he was a citizen of a State that was invincibly Republican, and therefore that his nomination would be of

NO BENEFIT TO HIS PARTY n point of locality to excite local or State Tuesday, in the event of its resulting in the choice of a Democratic Senator of the United States, will put the Senator in the fore front of Presidental candidates, with conditions in his favor which will not attach to any other. Foraker is considered out of the question now he is defeated, and the bitterness felt by his faction toward both Sherman and McKinley, it is thought, will render it emphatically bad politics to nominate either of those gentlemen. Blaine is looked upon by all as finally retired as a Presidental candidate. President Harrison isn't viewed as a possibility for a second term. All these out of the way, shrewd politicians say Allison will have no oppoent who could be called formidable, either in point of ability, experience, locality or popularity. LIGHTNER

SETTLED BY ARBITRATION. End of a Short Strike of Freight Trainme

at Evansville, Ind. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. 1 EVANSVILLE, IND., November 7 .- The strike of the freight conductors and brakemen, which was initiated vesterday, and which bade fair to assume immense proportions, was settled to-day, both sides making concessions. Mr. William Cavitt acted as mediator and adjusted matters with entire and the fear that the strike would becom general all over the system possibly hastened

It is said that the strikers got by far the best of the matter, the salaries being raised from 18 to 25 per cent. The men resumed work. immediately, and several large train of freight have been sent out.

BROKE A BREAD COMBINE.

A Buffalo Baker Firm Decides to Run the Risk of a Boycott.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. BUFFALO, N. Y., November 7 .- The bread combine here was broken to-night by Smith, Falke & Co., the largest baker firm in town. When "Old Hutch" made his corner on wheat, the Buffalo Bakers' Association raised the price of bread, and has since refused to lower it. Some small bakers ness, and the bosses threatened to boycott anybody patronizing any baker who cut the high prices.

norrow domestic bread will be sold by the Vienna people for 6 cents a loaf, and Vienna for 8 cents. The other very mad because they cannot fight this firm.

WAITING FOR THE WORD. The Territory of Washington Very Anxion to Become a State. OLYMPIA, W. T., November 7 .- The Senate met to-day and swore in Senators and Lieutenant Governor and adjourned until Monday. The House made its temporary organization permanent, swore in its officers and adjourned until Monday next. No one hopes for a proclamation of admission now until next Monday or Tuesday.

Friends of the Senatorial candidates, Messrs. Squire and Allen, are trying to rush the caucus of Republicans so as to decid upon who the party will support,

FORAKER'S WIFE ELECTED With Other Ladies, She Takes Office in Woman's Society.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 7 .- The convention of the Woman's Home Missionary Society finally adjourned at noon to-day. Mrs. John Davis, of Cincinnati, was elected President to succeed the late Lucy Webb Haves. The other general officers were reelected. Two new members of the Board of and North Dakota for a convention to be held in Omaha December 18, for the purpose of uniting the States named into a central prohibition organisation has been Hayes, daughter of ex-President Hayes, and Mrs. Edward Smith, of Detroit.

HE CUT TO

A Madman Murders Two Men, Coo bly Fatally Stabs Two Others, at the verely Cuts Two More-He h

Finally Overtaken and Shot While Rowing for Liberty.

NEW ORLEANS, November 7 .- Bayou Bouf, a small station on the Southern Pacific road, 90 miles from New Orleans, was the scene to-day of a terrible tragedy, in which two men lost their lives and four others were dangerously and two fatally injured. A wake had been in progress at the Bayou Bouf section house, in which a number of people from the neighborhood had taken part. From the section house several of them went to the station and were standto the station, and were stand-ing on the platform, when one of them, Leon Thebodaux, was accosted by a stranger, who slapped him roughly on the shoulder. He objected to this, and the next moment, without a word, the stranger drew a long, large knife, and stabbed him in the neck and side, wounding him so he could not rise from where he fell. His brother Neil sprang to his rescue, but the stranger stabbed him also, cutting one of the large arteries, and felling him to the ground. Leon drew his revolver and fired once at the desperado, but without effect.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

Melas Thebodaux, cousin of the two wounded men, came to their rescue to meet with the same fate, the blood spurting from two ugly gashes in his right side and back, inflicted by the mysterious stranger. Two other men. Frank Penniston and Joseph Morrison, were the next victims, the latter being literally chopped to pieces by the in-furiated madman, who was pursued, as he attempted to escape by means of a boat, and shot by a man named Ancoin, his body falling into the bayou. The murderer was a stranger, and no one who saw him had any idea who he was or whence he came. The only explanation possible is that he was a mad man. Peuniston was killed instantly, and so was the mysterious stranger. Neil Thebodaux and Morrison were sent to the Charity Hospital at New Orleans, and will probably die. The two other Thebodauxs are severely cut, but it is not believed fatally.

A FIGHT IN SIGHT.

The Prospect for Trouble at the National Convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union-Mrs. J. Elleu Foster the Disturbing

Feature. CHICAGO, November 7 .- The national convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union opens in this city to-morrow morning. Great interest is already being manifested in the session, and besides the regular delegates, about 400 in number, visitors from all parts of the United States are in attendance. The principal question which will come before the convention will be the attitude of the organisation with regard to the vexed question of party politics. A minority of the convention, headed by the solid Iowa delegation, have for years protested against the policy of the majority of the convention in pledging the influence of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union to the third party.

This minority, headed by Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, believe that no majority, however overwhelming, have any right to pledge the pride and enthusiasm. It is the opinion of many here who remember the great popularity of Allison among the delegates to the Chicago Convention, and the intense enthusiasm exhibited for him by the delegation from his own State, that the reverse of looking toward making adherence to the third party an absolute test of membership in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. At the last convention of the national organization, held in New York City, formal notice was given that this year the constitution of the society would be amended so that such a test of membership would be incorporated therein. This would legislate out of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union large numbers of the best women in that society. Some of the members from both faction claim to-night that if this policy is pursued, no honorable course will be left to the mi-nority but to withdraw from the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and that those who have been connected with the society from its birth will be loth to leave the society, but no alternative will be left them. They also say that a large number of local unions have withdrawn from the national organization, and the unity of the society depends upon the action taken by this con-

ELOPEMENT AND ABDUCTION

Charged Against William Morrisey and an Alleghenian's Wife. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

CINCINNATI, November 7 .- A few days ago a letter was received by Chief of Police Deitsch from Mr. T. S. Frisbee, of Frisbee & Piper, of the Superior Mills, Allegheny, Pa., asking the police here to look out for Mrs. Frisbee and their 14-year-old son, Eddie. In the letter Mr. Frisbee stated that his wife had run away October 30 with William Morrisey, a well-known character about town here, taking with her their son. Detectives Jackson and Callahan were detailed on the case, and to-night located the runaway at Fifteenth and Race streets, at the home of Morrisey's parents, where she was living with Morrisey. The boy, a bright-faced lad, was with his mother. He was employed as cash boy in a store here, and his earnings contributed a support to his mother's lover. Both mother and son were arrested and locked up on a general charge of suspicion, while a telegram was sent to Mr. Frisbee notitying him of his faithless wife's arrest. The boy will be returned home to-morrow, while legal steps will be taken against Mrs. Frisbee. Morrisey is wanted in Pittsburg and Allegheny for the abduction of th boy. His case on the charge of grand lar-ceny is already before the Allegheny county grand jury. A SAD FALL PROM GRACE.

Sam Jones' Western Side Partner in Jail for Robbing a Railroad Company.

PRPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) SACRAMENTO, CAL., November 7. -Frank J. Lee, who accompanied Sam Jones, the revivalist, to this city last winter as his the revivalist, to this city last winter as his Robert Pitcairn, Superintendent of the private secretary, is now locked up in the Pittsburg division of the Pennsylvania Railcity prison on a charge of burglary. On Tuesday he introduced himself to Ticket day he introduced himself to Agent Thompson, at the Southern Pacific Company's office, as the nephew of a promi-nent railroad official and was invited into the office. While the agent was not looking, Lee stole a quantity of railroad tickets and left on the east-bound trrin. He was aptured at Colfax and brought back from

THREE CENTS

The Southron Delegates Make the Grand Rounds and View Our Wonders.

INDUSTRIES IN A PANORAMA

Evoke the Heartiest Admiration of the Sight-Satiated Senors.

NATURAL GAS SURPRISED THEM.

A Tour in Carriages to the Southside Mills Began the Day-Andrew Carnegie Gulded the Visiters Through Steeldom-B. F. Jones Showed Off the Great American Iron Works-Steel Processes Examined lo Detail-Toothsome Vinnds Appealed to Gastronomical Impulses-Perfect Are rangement in Every Essential Detail-The Big Borough Visited-Noise and Brilliancy Last Night.

The Pan-American delegates got down to bedrock and saw what they came to the greatest industrial city for. The mammoth industries of the Monongahela Valley surprised and astonished them. Andrew Carnegle and B. F. Jones acted as guides in their respective mills. The natural gas display of last night not only astonished the visitors but the natives. There was also a great mechanical display, condensed, at Exposition power hall. The Allegheny Valley is to be gone over to-day.

The first day's tour of the Pan-American risitors took place yesterday. The weather was beautiful, clear and warm, and every-

Beautiful by Night-Top of the Court House

Tower, Sketched From the Exposition. body enjoyed the trip to the mills of the Monongahela Valley.

It was fully 9:45 A. M. before a start was made from the Monongahela House. The Spanish Americans are not early risers and love to take their siests in the morning. Besides that, many of them complained of tardy service at the breakfast table. One by one they dropped downstairs, each with his morning eigarette, and ambled about the lobby taking their dolce far niente until Colonel C. W. Batchellor gave the signal to take carriages. A long line of vehicles was drawn up on Smithfield street, near the main entrance. The tourists and the Pittsburg business men were embarked and the route was taken toward the Southside. THOSE WHO SAW THE SIGHTS. The following Spanish-Americans made the rounds yesterday: Secretary E. B. Attwell, of Argentine: Delegate Juan F. Velarde, Secretary Melchor Obar-rio, Attaches Alcibiades Velarde and Mariano Velarde, of Bolivia; Attache C. S. Martins, of Brazil; Delegate Judge Jose Alfonso and Secretary Paulino Alfonso, of Chili; Delegate Climaco Galderson, of the United States of Columbia; Delegate Jose Maria Placido Caamano, of Ecuador; Secretary E. C. Fiallor and Attache R. Villafranca, of Honduras; Delegate Matias Romero, of Mexico; Delegate Horatio Gurman, of Nicaragua; Delegate F. C. C. Zegarra, of Peru; Delegate Jacinto Castellanos, of San Salvador; Delegate N. B. Peraza, of Venezuela; F. G. Pierra and his secretary, Nelson Polhamus, of the Spanish-American reial Union. The delegates for the United States were: Andrew Carnegie, John B. Henderson, Henry G. Davis and Morris M. Estee.

The attaches of the United States delega tion were: Captain John G. Burke, Lieutenant H. R. Lemly and Dr. H. C. Yarrow, of the United States army; Lieutenant Henry McCrea, of the navy; Attaches E. W. P. Smith, E. A. Trescott and T. J. Coolidge, Jr. PITTSBURGERS AND OTHERS. The Pittsburg and other gentlemen who made the trip yesterday were:

road Company, who was in general charge of the railroad transportation during the day; Thomas E. Watt, Western Passenger Agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, who ably assisted Mr. Pitcairn in making the trip a pleasant one: S, W. F. Draper, the general representative of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company throughout the tour; J. V. Patton, Super-intendent of the Pittsburg division of the Saland left on the east-bound trrin, He was captured at Colfax and brought back from that place this morning.

The tickets were found in Lee's possession, and also a letter of introduction, to which he had forged the name of E. B. Willis, managing editor of the Record-Union. The letter was written on Willistypewriting machine, which he had permitted Lee to use.

A SAMOAN VICTIM BURIED ON LAND.

Captain Schoenmaker Fluds His Grave in Wiltwyck Cemeterz.

Kingston, N. Y., November 7.—The body of Captain C. Marcus Schoonmaker, who lost his life in the hurricane at Samoa, was interred to-day in the family plot at Wiltwyck Cemetery. Brief services, attended only by immediate relatives, were held. Lieutenant Coffin, who was executive officer of the Vandalia, was present.